A Big Lesson!

Once upon a time there was a boy called John. He was a middle class boy who was jealous of his friends because they have expensive toys and John didn't have any. So he was always sad and rude to his parents. Once he was coming home but it started raining heavily. He saw a little house, he got there and knocked the door. A lady opened the door. She welcomed him and gave him a towel. She invited him on dinner. After dinner, he saw a boy wearing ripped clothes and was playing with broken toys but they were very happy. John asked him how are you very happy with these broken toys. The boy said our mother have taught us to be happy with whatever you have. John felt ashamed of himself. From then he never wanted any expensive toys and was happy in whatever he had.

Moral of the story:- Be happy in whatever you have, some people also dream of it. The End.

Parental Love ♥

Parental love is a deep affection, which is beyond our imagination.

The best gift I have ever had, to call them Mom and Dad.

They are the pillars of Support, guidance and Love, Which help me in every step I walk.

The love between my parents and me, is like a heaven for me.

No matter how big I am,

I need them in every tramp.
